

PVP Watch Recommends Black, Wilson and Mirsch for the City of Rolling Hills city council (by C. J. Ruona)

PVP Watch has interviewed the three incumbents and one challenger contesting the three Rolling Hills (RH) city council seats on the November 3rd ballot.

RH is a unique community with 1,939 residents living in 685 homes within three square miles. The entire city is zoned residential thus has no commercial activity. The voters in RH, based on past election results, are satisfied with their leadership. James Black, M.D. was first elected in 2002; Patrick Wilson in 2014; and Leah Mirsch in 2014. PVP Watch found the three to be well versed in all the issues important to their city.

They were questioned regarding public safety, fire dangers, emergency evacuation, state housing mandates, land movement, home insurance issues and cooperation with other cities on the Palos Verdes Peninsula. They were all well versed in these and other civic subjects that were raised. The three are fiscally conservative and manage to run the city within their budget.

The challenger Jeanevra Calhoun is an entrepreneur who is a third-generation resident of RH. She has enthusiasm and a good sense of the city, however... PVP Watch believes Black, Wilson and Mirsch have provided excellent leadership in the past, will continue to do so and endorse their reelection.
